

Grove City Christian School prides itself on finding the right balance for its Middle School program. The middle school consists of 7th and 8th grades. The teachers in the middle school work on instilling a work ethic and helping students take responsibility for his/her own education. At the same time, teachers realize the stresses of middle school and strive to keep parents informed at all times.

Classes offered at the middle school prepare students for GCCS's college preparatory high school curriculum while still employing the fun of middle school. For instance, a visitor walking through the middle school wing may find science classes dissecting earth worms while the math classes are working on a hands-on project. Literature circles wet students' appetites for reading, and the students learn how to research and document a written paper. Your child's individual progress, successes and concerns are easily tracked on our electronic system and via frequent communications with the faculty.

Realizing that students are still maturing, faculty work to give each student his/her own niche. Students have their own student council and a weekly chapel. This affords students the opportunity to be in leadership positions, even at this age.

The middle school staff is passionate about education and yearns to instill a love of learning and a zeal for Christ in everything they do.

Students who desire an even more rigorous academic instruction level can be considered to take Algebra 1 and/or a foreign language. Middle School students participating in these courses do receive high school credit and grades are included in the high school GPA.
